

Curriculum vitae Veiko Vengerfeldt DDS, PhD.

Veiko Vengerfeldt obtained his degree in dentistry from the University of Tartu (Estonia) in 2003. In 2003 he entered a postgraduate program in clinical - restorative dentistry, which he completed in 2006. Since 2005 he is a full-time staff member of the Institute of Dentistry in the department of Cariology, Endodontology & Periodontology, being a clinical instructor, assistant and lecturer in the dental clinic of the University of Tartu. After post graduation program he started as full-time assistant in the University of Tartu. At the moment he holds the Lecture title in University of Tartu. Since 2003 he has lectured and taught hands-on courses throughout the Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Ukraine and Finland. Since 2004 he is working as an endodontist and specialised general dentist in his private clinics in Tartu and in Põltsamaa. Since 2017 he is a co-owner of private dental Clinic "Riiamäe Hambakliinik" in Tartu, Estonia where he focuses on endodontics, implant surgery and prosthodontics and digital dentistry. In 2018 he defended his PhD degree in Medical department in University of Tartu. The title of his thesis was "Apical periodontitis: prevalence and etiopathogenetic aspects". His main field of research is apical periodontitis and digital dentistry. He is a member of Estonian Dentistry Association, board member of MINEC Estonia and Medit KOL in Estonia.